

Gen. Dempsey's confirmation hearing to be Chief of Staff, United States Army

Gen. Dempsey's confirmation hearings

March 3, 2011 – This morning the United States Senate Armed Services Committee held a hearing to determine whether Gen. Martin Dempsey, the Commanding General, U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command, should be reappointed to the grade of general and to be the next Chief of Staff of the Army.

Dempsey was nominated for the position by President Obama in February. If confirmed by the Senate, Dempsey will replace Gen. George Casey Jr. as the Chief of Staff of the Army.
