International, U.S. students meet on the pitch for friendly soccer match

Army War College International and U.S. students "battled" each other on grassy, historic Indian Field during the annual soccer game, Wed., May 29.

It was a great game, a close game, an always-exciting game, according to the crowds who cheered for family and colleagues. The U.S. team won the game 3-2.

It's the highest level of play that I've seen in a long time, said Larry Goodson, U.S. student coach and War College faculty member. It was a game that was notable for the good playing, good sportsmanship and camaraderie, he said.

The fans seemed to have more fun than the hard-working players. They included the International Fellows of the Class of 2014, led by Col. John Burbank in a couple iterations of the all-American "wave".
