

Carlisle Barracks, Army War College furloughs to begin July 8

Carlisle Barracks, Army War College furloughs to begin July 8

As directed by the Secretary of Defense on May 14, a furlough of up to 11 days has been directed for Department of Defense civilian personnel. The furlough period begins July 8, ending with the fiscal year, on Sept. 30. Affected employees are placed in a non-pay, non-duty status for one day each week. Approximately 700 civilian employees would be affected, out of the 1700-person workforce (which includes military faculty and staff, Army War College students, and Morale, Welfare and Recreation workers).

As a reminder, furlough days at Carlisle Barracks are the 1st day of the work week, starting July 8, and will continue every Monday thereafter until the end of September. The one exception is the Tuesday following Labor Day federal holiday which is a furlough day in lieu of Monday.

The following Carlisle Barracks and Army War College schedules and services WILL be affected:
