

Multiple faculty positions open at US Army War College

Sept. 23, 2016 -- The U.S. Army War College (Carlisle, PA) invites qualified civilian scholars to apply for fulltime faculty positions in a variety of academic disciplines. The Army War College educates the top echelon of U.S. military officers, U.S. government civilians, and military officers from scores of foreign countries. It awards a Master of Strategic Studies degree accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education.

Detailed information on each position and application procedures are available at <http://www.carlisle.army.mil/employment.htm>.

- Provost (Chief Academic Officer): Focused on academic excellence, strategic planning, faculty management, research oversight, and integration of effort across the institution.
- Chair of Strategic Leadership: A newly established position focused on developing strategic leaders and effective organizations for the Army.
- Professor of Strategic Leadership and Ethical Development: Focused on strategic leadership, discretionary judgment, relationships between policy and strategy, ethics of military operations, use of force, civil-military relations, and the military profession.
- Professor of Educational Methodology: Focused on creative application of new instructional methods and supporting technologies to enhance student learning.
- Professor of Asian Studies: Focused on Asia-Pacific security studies, defense policy, strategy formulation, international relations, and diplomatic history.
- Professor of National Security Studies: Focused on national security policy, strategy formulation, strategic leadership, theories of war and strategy, and regional studies.
- Professor of Strategic and Operational Art: Focused on military strategy, operations, concepts, and doctrine.
- Professor of Theater Strategy: Focused on military strategy, operations, concepts, and doctrine.
- Professor of Theater and Campaign Planning: Focused on military strategy, operational art, and joint, interagency, and multinational operations.

Review of applications will begin October 28, 2016, for the Provost position and November 14, 2016, for all other positions.

A talented, committed, and diverse faculty is our most important resource in educating the nation's future strategic leaders. We are fully committed to equal employment opportunity and compliance with the full range of fair employment practices and non-discrimination laws. Federal law dictates that the position may be offered to US citizens only.

U.S. Army War College Archives - News Article - 26 September 2016