

AHEC presents, “Vietnam: An Epic Tragedy,” with Sir Max Hastings

By Public Affair Staff 16 October 2018

SIR MAX HASTINGS
JOURNALIST, EDITOR, AND AUTHOR

VIETNAM
AN EPIC TRAGEDY

GENERAL OF THE ARMY OMAR NELSON BRADLEY MEMORIAL LECTURE

SIR MAX HASTINGS
JOURNALIST, EDITOR, AND AUTHOR
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 2018
USAHEC MULTIPURPOSE ROOM
DOORS OPEN 6:30 PM - TALK BEGINS 7:15 PM
FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, PLEASE CALL 717-245-3072
FOR UPDATES AND ANY LAST MINUTE CHANGES TO THE LECTURE
TIME AND PLACE, PLEASE CHECK THE WEBSITE WWW.AHEC.ABC

50th
ANNUAL
BRADLEY LECTURE
SERIES
PERSPECTIVES
IN MILITARY HISTORY

THE UNITED STATES ARMY WAR COLLEGE

The doors open at 6:30 p.m. The talk begins at 7:15 p.m. and a question and answer period will follow. This is the 50th anniversary year of the Perspectives in Military History Lecture Series. Originally sponsored by the Military History Institute.

This is the 50th anniversary year of the Perspectives in Military History Lecture Series. Originally sponsored by the Military History Institute now by the Army Heritage and Education Center. As always, the doors open at 6:30 p.m.

This is the 50th anniversary year of the Perspectives in Military History Lecture Series. Originally sponsored by the Army Military History Institute now by the Army Heritage and Education Center. The perspectives lectures features prominent authors of military history made available publicly at no charge. As always, the doors open at 6:30 p.m. The talk begins at 7:15 p.m., and a question and answer period will follow.

Beginning in October of 1968, discussions ensued between the Director of the Military History Institute and the Commandant of the Army War College to create a “discussion series” on strategic leadership and military history. This initiated what would become the Perspectives in Military History Lecture Series.

On Wednesday, October 17, 2018, the U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center will kick off the 50th year celebration with Sir Max Hastings, author of The Secret War, to present the General of the Army Omar Nelson Bradley Memorial Lecture. In this lecture, based on his new book, Vietnam: An Epic Tragedy, Sir Max Hastings critiques the methods, mistakes, and devastation caused by both sides during the war.

From France's crippling defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954 to the forced reunification between North and South in 1975, parts of the former French colony of Vietnam pushed back even the greatest powers of the world. The decades of war inflicted a huge material and human price on the Western powers, but the greatest cost inflicted by the war was suffered by the Vietnamese people themselves. Both North and South Vietnamese were forced to endure tyrannical and incompetent governments. For every American who died there, forty Vietnamese perished. When the U.S. pulled out of South Vietnam, the entire nation fell to Communist rule. The world remembers America's excesses, immortalized in gritty photography and the anti-war movement, yet forgets the vicious acts of terrorism carried out against the Vietnamese people by the Communists.

Sir Max Hastings spent three years collecting accounts from both sides of the war and gathered the testimonies of people from many walks of life, both soldier and civilian. Giving no undue praise to either side, Hastings masterfully depicts the cost of misused martial power in complex cultural and political issues that reject simple answers.

Sir Max Hastings is an author, journalist, and once editor-in-chief of The Daily Telegraph. He has published twenty-six books, and has reported on eleven conflicts as foreign correspondent for the BBC, most notably Vietnam and the Falklands. In 1982, he was Journalist of the Year and Reporter of the Year in the British Press Awards, as well as Editor of the Year in 1988. In 2012 the Pritzker Military Library of Chicago presented him its $100,000 Literary Award for lifetime achievement in military writing.