

Parameters reveals a new look online

A new online look will not change the professional tone and strategic orientation of Parameters, the Army War College journal. It will make it easier to research and use.

Like a new car with a better dashboard putting more choices at the driver's fingertips, the new Parameters online page makes selection easy.

Move directly to J. Boone Bartholomees' article, "The Issue of Attrition," or choose from among the selection of articles exploring the Spring 2010 featured topic, "Counterinsurgency and Beyond."
