Combat photographer to share story of breast cancer: "Men Get it, too"

Sep. 28, 2010 -- One of only two Army combat photographers whose work has appeared on the cover of Life Magazine will be the guest speaker at the 2010 Carlisle Barracks Breast Cancer Awareness Luncheon, Wednesday, Oct. 6.

Presented by Carlisle Chapter #256 Federally Employed Women, "Breast Cancer: Men Get 'It' too," is the topic that guest speaker, Allan Holm, cancer survivor, will address at this year's luncheon at the Letort View Community Center, 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Doors will open at 11 a.m.

Civilian employees may participate in support of this special emphasis program. Supervisors have discretion to permit employees to attend this special observance during working hours, based on mission requirements, according to HR director Tamara Wasson.

In addition to the cover of Life Magazine, Holm's photographs have appeared in National Geographic, Ladies' Home Journal, Brides, Good Housekeeping and many more publications.

Along with his wide-ranging experience behind the camera—from combat photography in Vietnam to ad agency work—Holm has been an active educator in the field of photography and is the owner of Allan Holm Photography in Lititz, Pa.

Valuable information and displays, a silent auction and door prizes will also be featured.

Proceeds will benefit Pennsylvania Breast Cancer Coalition.

Tickets for this event are $15 and include lunch. Contact one of the following Carlisle Barracks' representatives for tickets:
