Seminar 24 wins Boat Yard Wars

While Seminar 24 may be the last seminar numerically they proved they were first after winning Boat Yard Wars. The event, which is both a teambuilding exercise and a way for students and their families to meet each other, divides the class into their seminars to build boats out of cardboard and duct tape. Once they are built, two members from each seminar board the boat and race them across the pool as their seminar mates and families cheer them on.
