Carlisle Barracks to mark family appreciation month in November

"Our nation owes each day of security and freedom that we enjoy to the members of our Armed Forces and their families. Behind our brave service men and women, there are family members and loved ones who share in their sacrifice and provide unending support."

- President Barack Obama

Each year the President signs a proclamation declaring November Military Family

Month. This annual proclamation marks the beginning of a month-long celebration of the Military Family in which the Department of Defense and the nation will honor the commitment and sacrifices made by the families of the nation's servicemembers.

Throughout the month of November, military families serving around the world are honored through a variety of observances and recognized for their commitment and the many contributions they make every day in support of the military and our nation.

In appreciation of military families, the Carlisle Barracks Army Community Service will provide a "family photo shoot" session Nov. 6 and 7. Located behind their building at 632 Wright Ave, the staff will take advantage of the picturesque fall scene along the Letort Spring Run to take digital photos of military families, which will then be sent to their personal email addresses. Photos will be taken on Nov. 6, between 1 and 4 p.m., and Nov. 7 8 a.m. and 2 p.m.
