

National Security Seminar: Nominations open for June 6-9 at Army War College

National Security Seminar: Nominations open for June 6-9 at Army War College

NSS is scheduled for Monday through Thursday, 6-9 June, immediately preceding graduation. The deadline for nominations is 15 January. Find the nomination site at --

National Security Seminar nominations

National Security Seminar is a 4-day event, during which approximately 160 selected guests -- NSS 'New Members' -- are invited to join our seminars to examine current national security issues and exchange candid dialogue. Each day generally begins with a distinguished Bliss Hall speaker and proceeds to seminar-based dialogue, culminating with an evening social event. NSS New Members are exposed to leaders within their armed forces and government, while we in turn are afforded a better understanding of our diverse society.

Daily social events include an "Ice Breaker" at the Army Heritage and Education Center, a Seminar Social, and a Commandant's Reception held at Quarters One. New Members are also provided the opportunity to take a Gettysburg Battlefield Tour with our staff ride historians.

Not all nominations are selected for invitation -- selection is competitive, and selection criteria ensures a diverse pool of attendees from across the nation who do NOT generally have a close association with the military.

Invitees are required to provide their own transportation to the Harrisburg area, but hotel accommodations, local daily transportation, and meals are provided by the Army War College. Nominees will be notified in early February of their selection status.

For further questions about the nomination process, see please our website, or contact COL Tom Washington (ACOM for Outreach) at 717-245-3224. For academic program questions, feel free to contact me directly as follows: