Asian Pacific American Heritage Observance: Striving for Excellence in Leadership, Diversity and Inclusion

The Carlisle Barracks and U.S. Army War College Asian Pacific American Heritage Observance will be held Tuesday, May 22, 11:45 a.m.-1 p.m. at the Letort View Community Center with Ethnic food sampling.

The guest speaker will be retired Army Maj. Gen. Antonio Taguba. Taguba retired on Jan. 1, 2007, after serving 34 years on active duty. He is now the President of TDLS Consulting, LLC, which provides business consulting services to small companies-disabled owned and 8a certified.

Born in Manila, Philippines, Taguba was commissioned as an Armor officer and distinguished military graduate from Idaho State University in 1972.

Taguba served in numerous command and staff positions from platoon to general officer level with service tours in the continental United States, South Korea, Germany and Kuwait. During Operation Iraqi Freedom, Taguba served as Deputy Commanding General for Support, Coalition Forces Land Component Command/Army Central Command/Third U.S. Army, forward deployed to Kuwait and Iraq.

Upon his redeployment, Taguba served as Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Reserve Affairs, Office of the Secretary of Defense, Pentagon, and was later assigned as Deputy Commanding General for Transformation, U.S. Army Reserve Command--his final active duty assignment.

Taguba is a graduate of Idaho State University with a BA degree in history, Webster University with a MA degree in public administration; Salve Regina University with a MA degree in international relations; the U.S. College of Naval Command and Staff with a MA degree in national security and strategic studies; the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College and the U.S. Army War College.
