

Free Income Tax Course for Military Spouses and Wounded Warriors

Free Income Tax Course is offered to Military Spouses and Wounded Warriors

Upcoming Carlisle Barracks Job Fair

H&R Block is offering Military Spouses and Wounded Warriors a full scholarship to the Income Tax Course.

All fees for the class and materials are waived. If you successfully complete the course, H&R Block may hire you if you meet acceptable levels of proficiency. However, there is no guarantee of employment. Even if you complete the course, you are not obligated to become a tax professional for H&R Block. If you are hired and decide to continue your training, all fees for additional tax courses will apply.

H&R Block has both company and franchise offices. Not every franchise office participates in the scholarship program, or it may have a different offer for military spouses. Also, a handful of states do not allow discounts for educational programs. This program can't be offered in these states unless we have explicit permission. When you call to enroll, a customer service representative will help you determine what is available in your area.

How to Enroll

You can enroll by calling 1-888-412-7880 or by contacting a district office in your area. If you call 1-888-412-7880, an H&R Block representative will help you enroll and determine if you are eligible for this special offer.
