

Welcome Jam/Harvest of the Arts event welcomes USAWC Students and their Families

by Suzanne Reynolds

Welcome Jam at the Harvest of the Arts event welcomes Army War College students, newcomers and Families to Downtown Carlisle

Sept. 29, 2012 -- U.S. Army War College students, staff and families were introduced to the many reasons to go downtown at the Welcome Jam held in conjunction with the Harvest of the Arts fest.

Highlights of the event included juried and non-juried artists, live entertainment throughout the day, special kids' activities, great food, and more.

Lt. Col. Tim and Suzie Huening and son register at the Army War College Hospitality Tent at the Welcome Jam/Harvest of the Arts to be entered to win gift certificates from Downtown businesses on Sept. 29, 2012. Photo by Suzanne Reynolds

Carlisle Mayor Bill Kronenberg welcomed the Class of 2013 and introduced Carlisle Barracks Commanding General, Maj. Gen. Tony Cucolo who thanked the community for making USAWC students feel that they are a part of the Carlisle community and for their sponsorship to many of the International Fellows and their Families.

Col. Stephen Maranian, 2013 Class President and Maj. Gen. Cucolo presented to the Mayor a 2012 Army War College print.

"I want to thank the town and residents of Carlisle on behalf of all of the students of the Class of 2013 for the warmth and hospitality that they have shown us," said Maranian. "I went to college in central Pennsylvania about an hour north of here in Lewisburg and my first assignment in the Army was here, said Maranian. "So coming to Carlisle has felt to me like coming home again. "I also want to thank all the vendors and performers who have come out and made today such a wonderful event," he said.