Santa makes a stop at the holiday concert

The U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command Band performed a free holiday concert that featured a variety of holiday-themed music for the Carlisle Barracks community on Nov. 29.

Over 400 people attended the concert, including Lt. Col. Orhan Akdogan, a U.S. War College international fellow from Turkey. Akdogan said his family enjoyed the concert. "It was amazing," Akdogan said.

"They are very professional musicians. I liked them very well," he said.

The band performed 16 songs, and Santa Claus stopped by to greet the audience.

Lt. Col. Patrick Morrow, an Army War College student said it was a fun way to start the holiday season. "The kids really enjoyed it; they liked the sing-a-long. It was a good mix of songs that they knew and some songs that they didn't know. It was great," Morrow said.
