

USAWC Knowledge Network open for business

By Paul Tressler, Knowledge Management Officer

USAWC Knowledge Network open for business

Looking for a way to stay connected to Army War College experts, publications and more? Thanks to a new initiative you can stay easily connected via the Army War College Knowledge Network at <https://www.carlisle.army.mil/kmn>

The Knowledge Network to provide access to USAWC Subject Matter Expertise and to all publications found in the War College library.

What can you do with The War College Knowledge Network?

- Quickly search student, staff and faculty accounts for subject matter expertise
- Stay informed of USAWC newly published research
- Collaborate with strategic leaders

By using a standard taxonomy, users are able to receive faster and more complete results when searching.

The KN is a role based access application that is currently available to:

- All Alumni to include International Fellows
- All Resident and Distance Education Students
- Civilian Academia
- USAWC Staff and Faculty
- Military Members
- Federal Civilian Employees

- Federal Contractors
- Public Sector
- Army War College Fellows

To request access and become a member of the KN visit <https://www.carlisle.army.mil/kmn> and complete your profile. After requesting an account, building and quantifying your expertise members will:

- Receive a welcome email that contains a link to the content in War College library that corresponds to their expertise
- Access the link, review the libraries latest content on your area of expertise
- May subscribe to an RSS feed to published content that interests you
- Subscribing to the RSS feed ensures network members are automatically notified when new content is entered into the library keeping you up to date with the most current War College research.

U.S. Army War College Archives - News Article - 28 March 2013