

Discover World War I genealogy at the USAHEC this Saturday

Discover World War I Genealogy at the USAHEC

Discovering Genealogy During World War I

Presented by the
U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center

Saturday,
January 18, 2014
10:00 AM

Free presentation and workshop on how to use military records to construct family history during World War I.

Presentation starts at 10:00AM.

Lunch for purchase in the Café Cumberland.

Novice, amateur, and expert genealogists are all welcome.

For More Information:
717-245-3972 • www.usahec.org
Email: usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.ahec-ves@mail.mil

Do you know the name of a Soldier and want to learn more, but aren't sure how to begin research? Visit the U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center (USAHEC) in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, for a lecture and workshop entitled, "Discovering Genealogy during World War I," presented by Martin Andresen at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 18, 2014.

Following the lecture, Andresen will offer hands-on assistance to visitors with questions about conducting research and finding source material from any era. The USAHEC is the U.S. Army's premier research institution, with archival collections spanning from before the French and Indian War through current operations. While focused on how to research World War I veterans, this workshop is perfect for genealogists, researchers, students, and people of all experience levels.

The workshop commemorates the 100th anniversary of the Great War and kicks off the USAHEC's Winter History Series programs.

The USAHEC Winter History Series highlights different eras and topics in U.S. Army history through special lectures and hands-on workshops. The other winter programs include the popular, "Re-Enactor Recruitment Day," on Saturday, Feb. 8 and "Photography in the Army," on Saturday, March 1.

This event is open to the public and free to attend. Registration is not required, and the lecture begins at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 18, 2014.

As always, the USAHEC's exhibits, to include the new art gallery and the Army Heritage Trail, will be open. Don't forget to grab lunch at Café Cumberland from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and feel free to browse the museum bookstore. Parking is free and the USAHEC facility is handicapped accessible. For more information about this and all other events, please call 717-245-3972.