

War College faculty share Vietnam experience for USAHEC project

War College faculty share Vietnam experience for USAHEC project

Maj. Gen. Anthony A. Cucolo, III, Army War College Commandant, honored three USAWC faculty members, Professor Doug Campbell, Professor Bernie Griffard and Professor Doug Lovelace for their service in Vietnam.

On Thursday, May 1, Maj. Gen. Anthony A. Cucolo, III, Army War College Commandant, honored three USAWC faculty members, Professor Doug Campbell, Professor Doug Lovelace, and Professor Bernie Griffard for their service in Vietnam.

The oral history interviews were conducted as part of the Army's oral history program.

Professor Campbell served as an advisor to the South Vietnamese Cavalry and commanded K Troop, 3rd Reconnaissance Squadron, 11th United States Cavalry; Professor Griffard served as the S-4 and B Company Commander, 2nd Battalion, 503rd Infantry, 173rd Airborne Brigade; and Professor Lovelace flew with D Company (Cobra gunships), 101st Aviation Battalion of the 101st Airborne Division.

The U.S. Army Military History Institute executes two DA-directed oral history programs, the Senior Officer Oral History Program (SOOHP), and the Division Command Lessons Learned Program (DCLL). The SOOHP includes biographical interviews as well a topical interview on subjects of interest to the Army.

The interviews of Professors Campbell, Lovelace, and Griffard are examples of topical interviews. These transcripts will become part of the USAMHI oral history collection available to the public.

If you have any question about the MHI Oral History program, contact Brent Bankus at 245-4573.

