Andrew McConnell Youth Center, the Farmhouse and Root Hall before meeting with garrison directors and staff to discuss his vision for the future of IMCOM and the Army.*

Lt. Gen. David D. Halverson, Commander, U.S., Army IMCOM and Assistant Chief of Staff for Installation Management, toured Carlisle Barracks and the Army War College during a visit Sept. 2.

Halverson, a 1998 U.S. Army War College graduate, shared his thoughts on the future of IMCOM, the fiscal challenges and hard choices facing the Army, toured the new Sgt. Andrew McConnell Youth Center and hosted a noontime discussion with garrison directors.

He called the McConnell Center an amazing facility and an example of the Army's commitment to families.

"This will truly have an effect of the quality of life for children and their families here," he said.

Halverson acknowledged that while there are many great facilities and programs here, it is the people that make Carlisle Barracks special.

"Be proud of what you and your staffs do on a daily basis," he said. "You are part of a great team. You can tell this is a hard working garrison and it shows."
