

Civilian Students' chili cook-off competition to delight Army War College community

Civilian Students' chili cook-off competition to delight Army War College community

Has the chill of winter left you feeling blue? Are you looking to spice things up and put a little fire back into your weekend? Good news chili connoisseurs the Civilian Students' chili cook-off competition will delight the Army War College community Feb. 10.

The Army
War College Civilian
Students Class of 2017 will host a sports tailgate themed chili cook-off

competition at the Letort View Community Center on Friday Feb. 10 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

The cost of this event is $20 per adult, and interested partakers can purchase tickets from their seminar's civilian representatives until Feb. 1.

Entertainment at the event will include a DJ, line dancing lessons, and an optional seminar chili cook-off competition.

The entry fee to compete in the chili cook-off is $10 per entry. There is a limit of two entries per seminar, and entries for the competition must be made at the LVCC by Feb. 1.

The USAWC Civilian hosted chili cook-off will award prizes for the best chili and best decorated seminar table. The civilian students will also give prizes away at the door.

U.S. Army War College Archives - News Article - 30 January 2017