CARLISLE, PA – The U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center will host an open house with a special presentation concerning their new exhibit,

"Ka-Pow Boom! Understanding the Soldier Experience through Comic and Illustrative Art," Saturday, April 1, 2023, at 2 p.m.

Writer and former military strategist, U.S. Army veteran Steve Leonard will deliver a presentation on his comic series "The Further Adventures of Doctrine Man." Leonard will discuss the origins and inspiration for the comic strip and the impact it's had on the U.S. Army

"Doctrine Man" is one of the many comics on display, alongside a wide variety of other pieces showcasing the use of comics in an Army context spanning multiple eras, including original World War I and World War II comics. These popular storytelling mediums and modes of expression afford the audience a different perspective of Army life, providing a glimpse into the American Soldier experience.

The exhibit reflects USAHEC's contemporary approach to connecting the American people to their Army, enabling them to better understand the Soldier experience by displaying the Army's rich historical collections in new and thoughtful ways.

Steve Leonard's presentation will be livestreamed on <https://www.armywarcollege.edu/live/>.
